Padang Panjang Hospital Registration For Medical 2020

ANDROID IOS

I created this application when I worked at Padang Panjang Hospital, I built this application from scratch. I made this application using React Native, native base as the UI, and axios for the request api. and Laravel as the backend of this application, this application is still under development. I made this application for approximately 6 months, because I worked alone in building this application.

ABON (ABSENSI ONLINE)

Aplikasi absensi online Sumatera Barat

2020

ANDROID IOS

This application is a development of Abon Sumbar. I myself created an online absence application that continued the work of the previous programmer who I replaced. This application is used to carry out online attendance when employees are in predetermined coordinates. This application is also useful for making daily reports, and simultaneously with making permits. The application was created using React Native and Axios for API requests.
